TRUSTEES' REPORT

The trustees present their report and accounts for the year ended 31 December 2014.

The accounts have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in note 1 to the accounts and comply with the charity's Memorandum and Articles of Association, the Companies Act 2006 and the Statement of Recommended Practice, "Accounting and Reporting by Charities", issued in March 2005.

Structure, governance and management

Liberal Judaism (ULPS) is established as a charitable company limited by guarantee and is a registered charity with the Charity Commission (No 1151090). The charity's affairs are governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association which allows for any activities covered by the charity's objectives with no restrictions. In the event of the company being wound up the maximum each member will contribute will be £1.

The Trustees, who are also the directors for the purpose of company law, and who served during the year:

Simon Benschier (Chairman, elected July 2015)
Lucian Hudson (Deputy Chairman, elected July 2015)
Jackie Richards (Vice Chair)
Rosie Ward (Treasurer)
Dr Howard Cohen (Company Secretary)
Ed Hernan
David Hockman
Robin Moss (elected September 2014)
Tamara Schmidt
Ruth Seager
Amelia Vincy
David Pelham (Resigned July 2015)
Rabbi Charley Baginsky (Chair of Rabbinic Conference, resigned July 2015)

In August 2015, Rabbi Richard Jacobi and Rabbi Alexandra Wright were elected onto the Board of National Officers as the co-Chairs of Rabbinic Conference.

Lucian Hudson was the Chairman of Liberal Judaism in 2014; having served two full terms in this role, he was succeeded by Simon Benschier in July 2015, who served as Vice Chair of Liberal Judaism in 2014. Lucian Hudson was elected Deputy Chair of Liberal Judaism in July 2015.

The trustees of Liberal Judaism, known as Officers, are recruited based on the skills that they can offer where gaps exist in the trustee group.

Consideration is also given to the representation of a cross section of Liberal Judaism's membership on the Board of National Officers.

Officers can be co-opted during the year by the Board of National Officers, for their election to be confirmed at the AGM or Council, or can stand at the AGM for direct election. Officers serve three year terms. The trustees' induction and training programme is reviewed regularly. The Board of National Officers delegate day to day decision making on matters relating to employment of staff, PR and business planning to the Chief Executive, Rabbi Danny Rich.

The Board of National Officers meet eleven times during the year to consider strategic and business matters that have an impact on the organisation. The Board of National Officers are mandated to make decisions on those matters by the Council, which meets quarterly and is comprised of representatives from all member communities.

There are no related organisations.

The Trustees have complied with their duty in section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to guidance published by the Charity Commission.

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed, and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to the major risks.

Objectives and activities

The principal objective of Liberal Judaism is promoting religion by teaching and advancing the beliefs and practices of Liberal and Progressive Judaism generally.

Liberal Judaism provides religious, educational, youth, cultural and social activities and materials both to its constituents and members. It develops, assists and supports new groups and congregations. It supports in both finance and personnel the work of other associated bodies including the Leo Baeck College and the World Union for Progressive Judaism.

Liberal Judaism publishes prayer books, pamphlets, newsletters, statements of belief and other publications of wider Jewish interest. It speaks out on issues relating to Judaism generally, Liberal Judaism specifically and responds to matters of a social and ethical nature.

The trustees have paid due regard to guidance issued by the Charity Commission in deciding what activities the charity should undertake.

Achievements and performance

The last 12 months have seen Liberal Judaism flourish, fulfilling its remit of providing education, religious and community services to its constituents and to the wider community. The year 2014 saw steady growth in Liberal Judaism activities, among Liberal Judaism constituents and concerning our impact in all types of media.

The Biennial Weekend was the biggest and best in the movement's history. It saw more congregations get actively involved and more first timers among the record 305 delegates than ever before. However, it was not just the numbers that made the conference a success. It was the fact that Biennial 2014, in the words of many who attended, was a transformative experience.

The Biennial's keynote speaker Rabbi Jonah Pesner – vice president of Liberal Judaism's sister movement in America – spoke passionately about social action. Others to enthuse the Biennial with their words included Israeli cultural historian Fania Oz-Salzberger and Liberal Judaism's Rabbis Danny Rich, Andrew Goldstein, Charley Baginsky and David Goldberg.

The Biennial was supplemented by a Midlands Shabbaton, which brought together many Jewish communities in the area, and Sunday Seminars on Israel, choirs, membership and a range of other topics requested by members. There was also a whole range of regular IJY-Netzer youth activities, including another successful Kadimah Summer Camp and a full Israel tour.

Further, Liberal Judaism founded its Alliance of Progressive Judaism with the Movement for Reform Judaism, graduated its third cohort of Ba'alei Tefillah lay leaders and published Israel Mattach, The Inspirational Voice of Liberal Judaism by Rabbi Danny Rich.

Liberal Jewish communities are at the core of the Liberal Jewish mission - offering services, education and pastoral support on a daily or weekly basis. Wessex (affiliated 2010) saw its first baby blessing; Ipswich (Suffolk) was welcomed into membership by the Liberal Judaism Council and High Holy Days were held in both Lancaster and York – a first for 40 years.

Liberal Judaism Rabbis and leaders promoted Liberal Jewish values in print, online and broadcast media as diverse as the BBC, Sky News, The Jewish Chronicle, Jewish News, The Guardian, The Times, The Jerusalem Post, Haaretz and The Huffington Post, not forgetting local media and radio too.

Liberal Judaism, through its members, was also active in social action and key campaigns. At Sukkot 2014, Liberal Judaism – in partnership with Citizens UK – began its 'Sanctuary Campaign' to persuade each local authority to agree to welcome 50 refugees under the United Nations Vulnerable Persons Scheme. At the time the British Government had offered 750 places but less than half had been completed.

Liberal Judaism also took a lead role in campaigns to extend the provision for assisted dying and to provide a Living Wage and adequate training for those who care for the most vulnerable in society.

Financial review

General:

The Chief Executive is delegated by the Board of National Officers (BoNO), to generate funds that enable the delivery of a range of services whilst maintaining tight controls on spending. At financial year-end a deficit of £24,883 was recorded; this is in comparison to an operating surplus of £13,200 in 2013.

LIBERAL JUDAISM (ULPS)
(A COMPANY LIMITED BY GUARANTEE)

At the end of 2010, Liberal Judaism purchased an extension to Edgwarebury cemetery, borrowing in excess of £190,000 from six constituent communities who participate in the burial scheme. The loans were for a minimum of 5 years and a maximum of 10 years, and by the end of the fourth year, 31st December 2014, some 48% had been repaid.

At the year-end reserves were £617,215 (2013: £642,098), consisting of £73,164 unrestricted funds (2013: £86,409), £462,433 designated funds (2013: £449,106) and £81,618 restricted funds (2013: £106,583).

Income:

Total income was up by some £110,000 from 2013 (£1,600,162 in 2014: £1,490,263 in 2013). An increase in income was seen across the core activities of the organisation, including small increases in congregational subscriptions, rabbinic services and grants received, as well as the income received for the biennial conference. These increases occurred alongside decreases in cemetery income (£407,927 in 2014: £455,733 in 2013) which fell due to a decrease in the death rate and IJY-Netzter income (£302,076 in 2014: 326,111 in 2013) which fell due to a reduction in events delivered in 2014.

The Council of Patrons continues to prove invaluable for raising funding for projects and development work, alongside other projects to raise funding for specific initiatives, including the development of a new siddur for Liberal Judaism.

In addition to the generosity of our Patrons and donors, a number of specific grants were received from the NLPS Trust for Progressive Judaism, the UJIA, The Children's Aid Committee, Jewish Child's Day, and the Heritage Lottery Fund.

Expenditure:

In 2014 total income increased by £110k but was matched by increased expenditure on activities of £62k. A rise in departmental expenditure across all departments reflects an increase in activities and some reallocation of core staff costs. Staff costs, however, only increased by £7,322, rising to £597,258.

LJ staff are very aware that LJ's success is in no small part dependent on their maintaining tight financial control on their own particular projects; in 2014, the staff team have continued to deliver projects on or under a break-even budget.

It is the policy of the charity that unrestricted funds which have not been designated for a specific use should be maintained at a level equivalent to between three and six months expenditure. The trustees consider that reserves at this level will ensure that in the event of a significant drop in funding, they will be able to continue the charity's current activities while consideration is given to ways in which additional funds may be raised.

STATEMENT OF TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES

The trustees are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Report and the accounts in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

The law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the trustees to prepare accounts for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources of the charity for that year.

In preparing these accounts, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the accounts; and
- prepare the accounts on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the accounts comply with the Charities Act 2011, the Charity (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 and the provisions of the trust deed. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF LIBERAL JUDAISM (ULPS)

We have audited the accounts of Liberal Judaism (ULPS) for the year ended 31 December 2014 set out on pages 6 to 17. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

This report is made solely to the charity's trustees, as a body, in accordance with Section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 and regulations made under Section 154 of that Act. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charity's trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditors' report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charity and its trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and auditors

As explained more fully in the Trustees' Responsibilities Statement on page 4, the trustees are responsible for the preparation of accounts which give a true and fair view.

We have been appointed as auditors under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 and report in accordance with regulations made under Section 154 of that Act. Our responsibility is to audit and express an opinion on the accounts in accordance with applicable law and International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland). Those standards require us to comply with the Auditing Practices Board's Ethical Standards for Auditors.

Scope of the audit of the accounts

An audit involves obtaining evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the accounts sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the accounts are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. This includes an assessment of: whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the charity's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed; the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the trustees; and the overall presentation of the accounts. In addition, we read all the financial and non-financial information in the Trustees' Report to identify material inconsistencies with the audited accounts and to identify any information that is apparently materially incorrect based on, or materially inconsistent with, the knowledge acquired by us in the course of performing the audit. If we become aware of any apparent material misstatements or inconsistencies we consider the implications for our report.

Opinion on accounts

In our opinion the accounts:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charity's affairs as at 31 December 2014, and of its incoming resources and application of resources, for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Charities Act 2011 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- the information given in the Trustees' Report is inconsistent in any material respect with the accounts; or
- the charitable company has not kept adequate accounting records; or
- the accounts are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

NOTES TO THE ACCOUNTS

1 Accounting policies

1.1 Basis of preparation

The accounts have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

The accounts have been prepared in accordance with applicable accounting standards, the Statement of Recommended Practice, "Accounting and Reporting by Charities", issued in March 2005 and the Companies Act 2006.

1.2 Incoming resources

Income is recognised in the period in which the charity is entitled to receipt and the amount can be measured with reasonable certainty.

Congregational subscriptions relate to monies receivable from member synagogues. Ground fees relate to monies receivable for membership to the burial scheme. Donations are received by gift aid and covenants. Such income is included in income on a receivable basis.

Funeral income relates to monies receivable from the charity's performance of funeral services and burials.

Youth and Kadimah income relates to monies receivable for the services and activities provided.

Income from grants is included in incoming resources when these are receivable.

1.3 Resources expended

Resources expended are accounted for on an accruals basis and include attributable VAT, which cannot be recovered. Costs have been directly attributed to one of the functional categories of resources expended in the SOFA.

Costs of generating funds consist of council of patrons expenditure.

Expenditure relating to the charitable activities are those elements of expenditure directly and indirectly incurred in performing these activities. Costs that are not directly attributable to a specific activity have been allocated on a percentage basis, according to the time the charity devotes to each of the charitable activities.

Governance costs comprise costs for the running of the charity itself as an organisation, including fulfilling its statutory obligations.

Grants payable are included in the SOFA in the year when they are payable. There is no legal or constructive liability to pay these grants.

1.4 Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

Tangible fixed assets other than freehold land are stated at cost less depreciation. Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the cost less estimated residual value of each asset over its expected useful life, as follows:

Freehold land is not depreciated; this includes cemetery land.

Improvements to Montagu Centre	Period of lease
Computer equipment	20% on a reducing balance
Fixtures, fittings & equipment	10% on a reducing balance

1.5 Stock

Stocks of publications are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Provision is made for obsolete and slow-moving items.

1.6 Pensions

The charity contributes towards employees personal pension schemes.

1.7 Accumulated funds

Unrestricted funds are general funds that can be used in accordance with the charitable objectives at the discretion of the trustees.

Crawley land fund relates to monies received on the sale of land which was transferred to the charity by the trustees of the Crawley Liberal Jewish Community. Under the terms of a further agreement with the trustees of the Crawley Liberal Jewish Community £200,000 was held on trust for use by Brighton & Hove Progressive Synagogue in its planned development. There were strict conditions for the use of this money which were met during the year and as a result the amount was paid to the Synagogue. The balance is to be used by Liberal Judaism for its development work. It is intended that this money will be used over a number of years.

Rainbow Jews project related to funds received from the Heritage Lottery Fund. These were being used in a project to research and document the history of LGBT members of the Jewish community.

The Twilight People project is funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund to create an archive of images, films and interviews relating to the history of transgender and gender-variant people of faith in the UK. The project will culminate in a national symposium in 2016 and the sharing of the archive.

The NLPS Trust for Progressive Judaism has supported a number of Liberal Judaism's projects during 2014, including the Emerging Leaders Network, Student Packs and outreach youth work.

The UJIA support the work of LJY-Netzer with an annual grant that covers staff and running costs, as well as project activities.

Other restricted funds consist of other small grants given for specific purposes, such as LJY activities.
